REMARKS

Applicant would like to thank Examiner Barry Taylor for indicating the allowability of claims 1 and 4-25 in the Notice of Allowability dated October 1, 2004. In the Examiner's stated reasons for allowance, it is noted that the "[p]rior art is not limited to using four clocks." (Notice of Allowance dated October 1, 2004 at p. 2) (emphasis in original).

In particular, the Notice of Allowance suggests that "[t]he first clock is used to time stamp a transmitted signal and the second clock is used to time stamp the received signal at a remote location from the first clock. NOTE: Both clocks are required to use a second clock (i.e. oscillator) that is to be used for a local reference time allowing the first and second clocks to operate at substantially similar reference (i.e. both have same local reference time)." (Notice of Allowance dated October 1, 2004 at p. 2)

While applicants do not necessarily disagree with the contention that the prior art is not limited to "four clocks," applicants would like to clarify that the allowed independent claims do not claim four clocks. In particular, as indicated in allowed independent claims 1 and 13, the inventive system includes a first clock and a second clock. The "oscillator" that is referred to in the Notice of Allowance is found in corresponding dependent claims (e.g., dependent claim 5).
